

SDG Goal 3 Good health and well-being

SDG Target 3.b Support the research and development of vaccines and medicines for the communicable and non-communicable diseases that primarily affect developing countries, provide access to affordable essential medicines and vaccines, in accordance with the Doha Declaration on the TRIPS Agreement and Public Health, which affirms the right of developing countries to use to the full the provisions in the Agreement on Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights regarding flexibilities to protect public health, and, in particular, provide access to medicines for all

SDG Indicator 3.b.2 Total net official development assistance to medical research and basic health sectors

Time series Commitments and gross disbursements of Official Development Assistance for medical research and basic health sectors

1. General information on the time series

- Date of national metadata: June 15, 2026
- National data: <https://sdg-indicators.de/3-b-2>
- Definition: The time series shows Germany's commitments and gross disbursements of Official Development Assistance (ODA) for medical research and basic health sectors.

The allocation is based on Creditor Reporting System (CRS) purpose codes. The CRS is the OECD's (Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development) international standard classification system for development finance and is used to classify development cooperation activities by sector and purpose.

The following CRS codes are included:

CRS-Code 12182: Medical research
CRS-Codes 122: Basic health

- Disaggregation: Type of Official Development Assistance

2. Comparability with the UN metadata

- Date of UN metadata: December 2025
- UN metadata: <https://unstats.un.org/sdgs/metadata/files/Metadata-03-0B-02.pdf>

Note: The indicator refers to developing countries, of which Germany is not a member.

- The time series is not compliant with the UN metadata, but provides additional information. The reasons are as follows:
 - o It shows Germany's ODA, while the UN metadata provides information on the development assistance received from the perspective of developing countries.

3. Data description

- According to the OECD, ODA is government support that is specifically “designed to promote the economic and social development of developing countries.”

ODA is an internationally recognised measure agreed within the OECD Development Assistance Committee (DAC). It comprises financial flows provided by official agencies to developing countries, their nationals, or international organisations for the benefit of developing countries. Private contributions and charitable donations are not recorded as ODA.

The DAC List of ODA Recipients is generally revised every three years by the DAC on the basis of the World Bank income classifications.
